

MBA in FINANCIAL FRAUD EXAMINATION AND MANAGEMENT

Why study for an MBA in financial fraud examination and management?

Because of the increasing risk of fraud, the demand for financial fraud examination professionals is growing. An MBA in financial fraud examination and management can open rewarding career opportunities in a variety of industries including corporations, banks, insurance companies, retailers, credit card services, government or even health care. Business leaders need to be prepared to face the risk that financial fraud poses to business and society. The role of fraud examiner, combining the skills of a business executive and a forensic investigator, has expanded in light of this threat.

Why study for an MBA in financial fraud examination and management at SXU?

The Graham School of Management's comprehensive, career-focused and innovative MBA curriculum, along with our committed and highly talented faculty, prepares graduates to make, communicate and implement decisions by teaching them how to apply theory to real-world business. A strong core curriculum in management theory and the finance concentration offer fraud detection, prevention and deterrence strategies while preparing students to meet the educational and testing requirements of the certified fraud examiner designation. Graduates will develop broad knowledge and professional skills to deal with various types of fraud, including business and occupational fraud, identity theft, computer fraud, insurance fraud and corporate financial fraud, by using the latest procedures and techniques in fraud examination and prevention. The GSM Center for the Study of Fraud and Corruption (CSFC) strives to be the foremost center of excellence in anti-fraud and anti-corruption research, education and training.

The courses offered in the financial fraud examination and management concentration are:

- ACCT 513 – Identity Theft & Computer-Related Fraud
- ACCT 514 – Financial Statement Fraud
- ACCT 515 – Fraud Examination
- ACCT 516 – Ethical Issues in Financial Fraud Examination & Management

To apply or for more information about the application process, contact the Office of Graduate Admission at (773) 298-3053 or graduateadmission@sxu.edu.

Accreditation

Saint Xavier's Graham School of Management business programs are accredited by AACSB International (The Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business).